

Terms and conditions

1. To partake in any yoga class is done at your own risk. The given classes are physical and there is always a risk of injury. The participant self is responsible for any injury. If in doubt, please check with your doctor if it is beneficial for you to participate in yoga classes.
2. Each participant must inform the instructor of any physical symptoms and/or injuries prior to commencement of the class. Without this information the teacher won't be able to guide the participant properly. A pregnancy should also be reported to the instructor.
3. Yoga Sanchara is not liable for any damage and/or loss of any property of the participant.
4. We strongly advise to book a yoga class online via the website to ensure a spot. If the participant is unable to attend a class then this should be canceled online via the website at least two hours in advance. In the event of late cancellation Yoga Sanchara is forced to charge the reserved class.
5. Group classes will only take place with a minimum of two signups. Without message from Yoga Sanchara you can assume that the class will actually take place.
6. It is possible that a class is canceled. If so, the booking will be void. In this case, the participant is able to take the class at a later stage within the class schedule. Check the website to make sure the classes will actually take place.
7. On school holidays and any other special events there might be a different roster. In this case you may see a notice via the website or newsletter, that the regular class have been moved to a different time and a different date. Check the website to make sure the classes will actually take place.
8. No classes will be given on public holidays.
9. In the case of missed classes due to illness, vacation or any other reasons, there will be no refund. Missed classes can be taken at any other convenient time within the class schedule, if place available, and within the then current subscription. After expiration of the subscription missed classes are invalid.
10. All subscriptions, as well as the trial and private class fees must be paid in advance by the participant through iDEAL or a bank transfer, indicating first name, surname and type of class/subscription, to NL53 KNAB 0255 3330 21 to the attention of Yoga Sanchara.
11. Yoga Sanchara subscriptions are strictly personal and not transferable. Refund of tuition fees is not possible.
12. In certain cases subscriptions are allowed to be "frozen" or put on hold temporarily. However this has to be discussed with a Yoga Sanchara instructor prior to undertaking any changes.
13. In case of outstanding payment Yoga Sanchara deserves the right to claim from the participant all collection costs.
14. In case of none, or late payment Yoga Sanchara has the right to remove the participant from attending any further classes. Yoga Sanchara instructors are happy to discuss at any time, how to resolve any issues in regards to payment.
15. Yoga Sanchara reserves the right to alter any schedule and/or training facility, as well as to alter or contribute to the terms and conditions at any time they choose to do so. Changes will be posted on the website.
16. Any issues that could arise in written form, or verbally with a participant not agreeing to the terms and conditions will be presented to a competent judge or a person(s) of the same caliber. All cases presented to Yoga Sanchara will have to adhere to the Dutch legal system.
17. When participating in any of the yoga classes you agree to these terms and conditions set out above.